ISA, Planning and Zoning

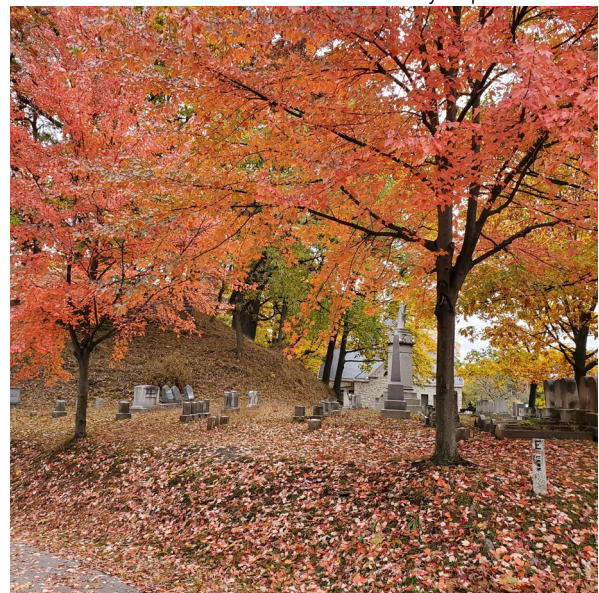

Central NY ReLeaf Urban Forestry Workshop

In this guided walk, Dr. Don Leopold will discuss basic tree biology and tree identification as he leads attendees around the 160-acre Oakwood Cemetery. This is an outdoor event, so please wear comfortable walking shoes and bring sunscreen and a water bottle.

Oakwood Cemetery was designed by New York City landscape gardener Howard Daniels, one of the country's early landscape architects. It was designed as a place of natural beauty, specifically located in an area with hills, valleys, and large oak trees. Oakwood is more than 150 years old and home to many heritage trees.

The walk starts at the mausoleum straight ahead from the cemetery entrance, opposite the Islamic Society of Central New York mosque on Comstock Ave. Please use this link for the specific location and driving directions:

New York's Community Forestry Partners

New York ReLeaf

Central NY ReLeaf is part of a statewide program managed by the New York State Department of Environmental Conservation's (DEC) Urban and Community Forestry Program (UCF) in partnership with the NYS Urban Forestry Council. ReLeaf brings together professionals and others to share information about our community forests and how to improve them. Volunteer members of ReLeaf include interested citizens, forestry professionals, representatives of environmental not-for-profits, local government officials, and municipal staff.

New York State Urban Forestry Council

The NYS Urban Forestry Council is a not-for-profit organization that advises and assists DEC's UCF in the implementation of statewide urban and community forestry programs.

Funding for DEC's UCF and NYS Urban Forestry Council programs, including ReLeaf, is provided in part by a grant from the USDA Forest Service.

These institutions are equal opportunity providers.
